AGING AND EDUCATION IN AUSTRALIA

A multidisciplinary course in gerontology: Sociological issues and teaching strategies 151
An approach in gerontology education for occupational therapy students 219
Developments in gerontological education in health sciences at Curtin University, Western Australia 207
Education for nurses who work with older clients: The South Australian scene 213
Gerontology in Australia: The development of the discipline 125
Incorporating a multidisciplinary approach in the graduate diploma in gerontology 165
Social work and the older person 193
The aging population as a challenge for the helping professions: Some observations 201
The integration of research, education, and practice in gerontology: Social work education at the University of Queensland 179

AGING IN THE LITERATURE

The OBASUTE legend: Caregiving insights in literature 561

ATTITUDES OF THE ELDERLY

A small-group sex education/intervention model for the well elderly: A challenge for educators 601
Characteristics and aspirations of older learners in an Australian university of the third age program: Part 1, survey results 1
Characteristics and aspirations of older learners in an Australian university of the third age program: Part 2, educational implications 15
Life reflections by older kinsmen about critical life issues 61
Serenity: Concept analysis and measurement 577

ATTITUDES TOWARD AGING

Attitudes of baccalaureate student nurses toward aging and the aged: Results of a longitudinal study 49

Effects of bias and educational experience on two knowledge of aging questionnaires 297
Little old ladies are much maligned: Diversity reconsidered 339

CAREERS IN AGING

Correlates of entering medical students' attitudes toward geriatrics 429

EDUCATION ABOUT AGING

Using a case study approach to teach ethics in gerontology 235

EDUCATIONAL NEEDS AND INTERESTS

Evaluating informed content for research: A methodological study with older adults 273
Lifelong education, lifelong needs: Future roles in an aging society 347
Optimizing the informed consent process with elderly people 245
The function of literacy in a nursing home context 105

HEALTH EDUCATION

Aging and severe physical disability: Patterns of change and implications for services 525
Characterization of anorexia in nursing home patients 591
Improving geriatric health care: The role of education 411
Improving nutrition services to older adults: A human ecological approach 259
Promoting healthy aging 513
Readability levels of over-the-counter medications commonly used by elderly people: A possible issue in compliance 491
Variability in information found on labels of high risk household products 283

HIGHER EDUCATION AND GERONTOLOGY

Brave new world of educational gerontology 327
Broadening multidisciplinary awareness in gerontology through faculty summer internships 619
Developing faculty through a university/community nursing service partnership 627
Educational gerontology: Trends and developments in 2000–2010 317
Implementing a national mentorship program in gerontology 497
Trends in education and gerontology 401

INSTRUCTIONAL APPROACHES

Age-related sensory changes: Using simulations in geriatric education 535
Comparability in gerontology core courses: An analysis of policy and aging course syllabi 481
Gerontology instruction: Different models for different results 359
Gerontology program development at a small liberal arts college 463
Humor as an innovative method for teaching sensitive topics 547
Meeting the higher education challenges of an aging society: A plan for California 373
Program development strategies in geriatric education: Implications for faculty 609

LEARNING RESEARCH

Adult competence in everyday tasks: A cross-sectional secondary analysis 27
Hearing and vision loss in an aging population: Myths and realities 87
Memory in middle-aged adults 447
Mythperceptions of hearing loss, hearing aids, and aging 289

RESEARCH AND TRAINING

Eldercare and the workplace: Short-term training preferences of employees 97
The communication disorders questionnaire: A staff training tool for the geriatric care setting 73
Training and development of future educational gerontologists 389